From the book "Ten Things Every Child with Autism Wishes You Knew" Ellen Notbohm, author

*Work to view my autism as a different ability rather than a disability.
Look past what you may see as limitations and see the gifts autism has given me.
It may be true that I'm not good at eye contact or conversation, but have you noticed that I don't lie, cheat at games, tattle on my classmates or pass judgment on other people?
Also true that I probably won't be the next Michael Jordan. But with my attention to fine detail and capacity for extraordinary focus, I might be the next Einstein, or Mozart or Van Gogh.*
